

Registration Bill to House

Senate Proposal Would Let Counties Fix System

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Counties could establish permanent voter registration on a local option basis under a bill passed by the Missouri Senate today.

Fifteen per cent of the voters would have to petition to put the issue on the ballot. The bill now goes back to the House for action on Senate changes.

Group Veers Away From Welfare Bill

Would Permit Pay To Oldsters Who Live With Relatives

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A Senate committee veered away last night from a bill that was described as a way to bankrupt the state.

The Public Health and Welfare Committee first approved a bill that would allow old age assistance clients to live with relatives, no matter how much income there might be in the home. The vote was 3-2.

"They broke the state," said Sen. Albert M. Spradling (D) of Cape Girardeau, the committee chairman.

Five hours later, after a night session of the Senate, Spradling called another meeting of the committee. After an hour of bitter argument, the committee decided, 6-2, to reconsider its approval of the bill loosening the eligibility requirements of the oldsters.

If the bill had passed, Spradling said, the state would have been bankrupt. Held in committee this late in the session, it would have little chance in the closing days.

The committee approved two other big welfare bills.

One raises the amounts welfare clients may receive from $60 and $62 a month to $65, with aid to dependent children at a flat $30 a month per person. It would cost an estimated $7 million in state funds.

The other increases the amount of money a welfare client may have and still be eligible from $500 to $750 for a single person and from $1,000 to $1,500 for a married couple. It would cost an estimated half million dollars.

The bill to let oldsters live with relatives is a perennial in the Legislature and sometimes gets by in the House but usually dies in the Senate.

This time Sen. Kelso Journey (D) of Clinton and others put on the pressure, caught the committee in session with a bare majority and pushed it out.

Welfare Director Proctor N. Carter estimated that if half of the 174,000 persons over 65 who are potentially eligible could qualify, the bill would cost $38,795,000 in state funds and $80,220,000 in federal. He said it would force sharp cuts in all welfare grants if the money was not available.

Dulles Awarded Freedom Medal By President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has conferred the Medal of Freedom on John Foster Dulles. It is the nation's highest award to civilians.

The former secretary of state, critically ill with cancer and pneumonia complications, received the medal Tuesday at Walter Reed Medical Center. It was presented to him on behalf of the President by Mrs. Dulles.

In a "Dear Foster" note accompanying the medal, Eisenhower wrote:

"It is an honor and a privilege to award you this Medal of Freedom. Inadequate though it is to express my gratitude and the gratitude of the nation you have served so well, it does stand as a small token of the affection and esteem that the people of America and of the world hold for you and your tireless efforts on behalf of freedom."

Pain relieving drugs are keeping Dulles generally comfortable as he clings to life. He sleeps much of the time in his hospital room.

After Flash Flood

St. Joseph Is Still There; Doing Business As Usual

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Really, Monday night's flash flood wasn't nearly as bad as many people — some as far away as Korea — seem to think.

St. Joseph is still here, doing business as usual and getting along quite well, thank you.

Scores of non-residents apparently gained distorted ideas of the proportions of the flood. Telephone calls to relatives and friends of residents from other cities indicated belief that a large portion of the city had been hit and badly damaged.

An Army major in Korea had the Red Cross call to ask about his family. The high water hadn't come within six miles of the major's home, the Red Cross was assured.

Actually of the city's 30,000 homes, 15 were destroyed and 90 damaged by the roaring water. The flood did not touch the downtown business area.

The badly damaged section was a relatively small area. Hardest hit were properties of the Burlington and Chicago Great Western railroads and business houses in the area north of the main part of St. Joseph.

Businessmen and householders in the stricken area continued mopping up operations today and making the best of the situation.

Said one busy businessman: "St. Joseph wasn't knocked off its feet. It was staggered more by the sympathy for the flood victims than it was by the monetary loss."

Two registration centers for the flood victims were set up today. One was in the Industrial City suburb, the other at a fire station a block from Burnside avenue where most of the damage occurred.

The Red Cross, which has a $25,000 disaster fund, said more than 500 persons were directly affected by the flood.

Belgian King Sees Southern California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"There is so much to see," said Belgium's King Baudouin, speaking of Southern California. He had just seen Debbie Reynolds. Next sight: Disneyland.

The visiting monarch had luncheon with Debbie and other Hollywood stars Tuesday at a Hollywood studio. Then she was his dinner partner at a party at the home of film director Mervyn Leroy.

He returned to his hotel early in the morning without elaborating to newsmen on his previous comment about his Hollywood stay: "I am having a wonderful time."

Sixteen Sentenced To Death for Beating

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Judge N. V. Rao Tuesday sentenced 16 persons to death for fatally beating three brothers in a dispute over the precedence of bulls in a festival procession.

Witnesses testified the accused surrounded their victims and beat them with sticks. A jury found them guilty of murder, and the judge commented that all 16 defendants were equally responsible.

The victims' father, a village government official, had objected to the accused men giving their bull a place ahead of his sons' at the traditional Festival of Bulls.

Truck, Bus Speed Limit Bill Signed

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A bill setting definite speed limits in Missouri for buses and trucks was signed by Gov. James T. Blair today.

For trucks over pickup size the limit would be 55 miles an hour. It's now 50 for trucks regulated by the Public Service Commission and there is no limit for others.

For buses the limit would be 65 in the daytime and 60 at night. For school buses it would be 50 miles an hour.

The bill was the product of a special committee on traffic safety. The new law goes into effect Aug. 29.

Also signed was a bill to make it a crime to tamper with an aircraft or start it without the owner's permission. The penalty would be one to five years or $1,000 fine or both.

Other bills signed will: Make it unnecessary for a tavern or bar to get written consent when a new church or school is established nearby. St. Louis sponsors said it was aimed at "fly by night churches."

Let third class cities contract with counties to do their tax assessing and abolish the office of city assessor.

Require county clerks and election boards to certify primary election results to the secretary of state within five days of the official canvass.

Allow cities to lower their tax rates for park purposes when the existing rate produces more money than needed.

Three Killed in Jet Transport Crash

TOKYO (AP)—A big turboprop transport plane crashed into a U.S. Air Force barracks and burst into flames in southern Japan today, killing three persons and injuring 14. Two of the injured were burned seriously.

The four-engine C130 was trying to land at Ashiya air base with one engine conked out. It was returning from Iwo Jima, the U.S. Air Force said.

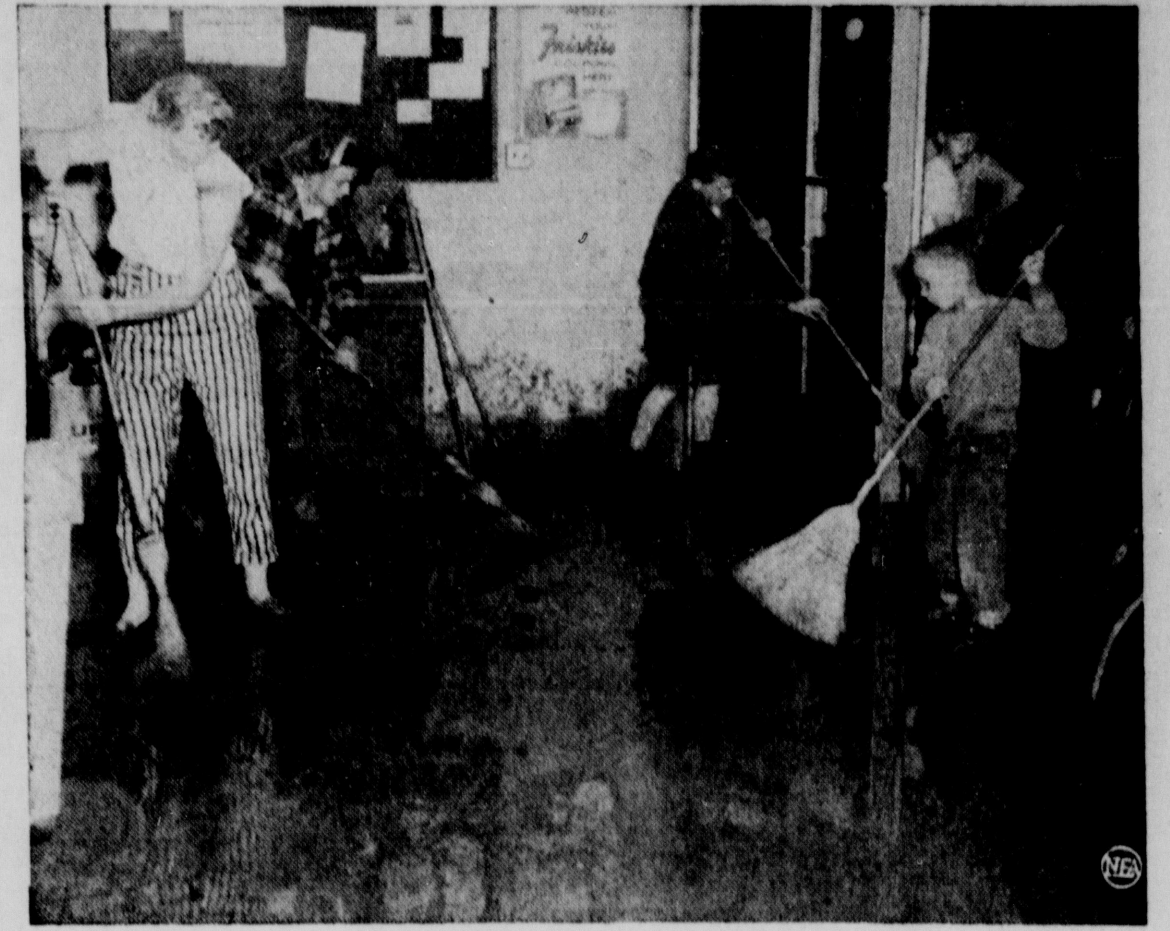

The Payoff

The best part about a hot day is the cool of evening. Everything seems to give a sigh of relief.

Considerable cloudiness tonight and Thursday; low tonight 68; high Thursday 85.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 71 and 86 at 1 p. m. Low Tuesday night 67.

The temperature one year ago today, high 82, low 56; two years ago, high 83, low 48; and three years ago, high 82, low 52.

FLOOD CLEANUP—Young and old alike pitched in to clean up the mud and water from stores and homes that were flooded when Black Snake Creek ran out of its banks in St. Joseph. Streets were turned into rivers that ran five to six feet deep in some areas. (NEA Telephoto)

Hangar Explosion Is Fatal To Five Men; Five Injured

Blast Occurs In Cleaning A Seaplane

BALTIMORE (AP) — An explosion raked the hull of a seaplane being cleaned with a commercial solvent in a Martin Co. hangar today, killing five workmen and injuring at least five others.

A Martin spokesman said a dozen or so men were bathing the hull of a two-engine seaplane with a cleaning fluid using pressure hoses when a muffled explosion rocked the interior of the hull.

The big hangar, located away from the main cluster of Martin buildings, quickly filled with smoke, but there was little fire after the first flash.

An inquiry was begun quickly by Dr. Melvin Davis, Maryland deputy medical examiner.

The company said the cause of the blast had not been determined. The hangar where the explosion occurred is used to clean and paint the seaplanes manufactured here before they are delivered.

The hangar is separated from the rest of the plant by the airfield used by Martin's and an Air National Guard detachment.

Identification of the dead was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Three of the injured taken to University Hospital were identified as John Dunn, 27, with second-degree burns; James Holly, 36, leg injuries, and Jacob Goldstein, 42, whose injuries were described as slight.

The hospital understood Holly was blown out of the hull by the impact of the blast.

Ferryboat Sinks In Brazilian Storm

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—A ferryboat carrying 127 commuters across Guanabara Bay sank today in a heavy rainstorm. All but eight passengers were reported saved.

The ferry, with a capacity of 280, sank during the morning rush hour.

Navy launches and private craft joined in rescue operations.

The boat went down near the end of its 20-minute run.

As Settlement Basis

Asks Soviet to Reconsider Rejection of Germany Plan

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter appealed to the Soviet Union today to reconsider its rejection of German unification as the basis for a German peace settlement.

In a solemn speech directed at Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko across the conference table, Herter warned that prolonged German disunity "can only result in disaster for those that stand in the way" of unification.

He argued that only a united German people can determine the future of the German nation.

"Until the Soviet Union recognizes these self-evident facts and cooperates to this end, there will never be a solution of the German problem or the problem of European security," he added.

At the same time, Herter indicated that the West is willing to put aside one section of package plan for linking unification with disarmament and European security. He said the Western powers do not insist on general disarmament as a condition for unifying Germany.

Gromyko has blasted the package as a tangle of unrelated issues.

Russia's proposal for a peace treaty with divided Germany and the continued division of Berlin, Herter said, "constitute a long step back" from Russia's emphasis four years ago on German unity.

Some cautious moves were apparently going on in the Big Four foreign ministers conference concerning the start of secret negotiations.

When these do take place they will almost certainly determine whether a summit conference will be held this summer.

Maurice Couve de Murville of France and Heinrich von Brentano of West Germany appeared less anxious to get quickly into secret talks than their two Western colleagues.

They were said to be taking the line with U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Britain's Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd that, since the Soviet Union created the Berlin crisis, the Soviets should take the lead in finding a solution.

Couve de Murville and Von Brentano are not opposed to secret talks, diplomats said, but insist the Western allies must enter into such discussions with the greatest care.

Debate over the rival and mutually rejected Soviet and Western proposals for a German peace settlement will continue possibly until the end of the week.

FBI Agents Not Mistreating Any In Lynch Probe

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP)—FBI agents apparently have convinced Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson of Mississippi that they are not mistreating persons they question about the lynching of a Negro charged with raping a white woman.

Unofficial reports of mistreatment by FBI agents have grown out of investigations of the lynching April 25 of Mack Charles Parker, 23-year-old Lumberton truck driver who was dragged from his jail cell by a hooded band.

During the past three weeks, many persons in the area have been questioned. No arrests have been reported.

Patterson conferred Tuesday with Ralph W. Bachman of the FBI and later told newsmen:

"Mr. Bachman, whom I have known for some time, told me those things (harassing and mistreating people) had not happened. If those things have happened, I hope they stop; if they have not happened, so much the better."

Several complaints had been made to newsmen by persons who had been questioned by FBI agents.

The wives of several men questioned have expressed irritation over the persistency of the agents' questioning.

Memory Expressed In Auto Parts Package

Time never erases the memory of Sedalia for those who encounter hospitality here. Expressions of appreciation take many forms. The latest occurred in the following manner:

George Snyder, parts manager for W. A. Smith Motor Co., sent in an order to the Ford Motor Co. It reached the parts warehouse at Lavalon, Mich. The man who filled the order noticed it was from Sedalia, so he enclosed a note with the package which read:

"This package for you was put up by a former G.I. who was at the Sedalia Air Base for his pre-flight training as a crew chief. I just would like to have the people of Sedalia know from you that at last I have found a way to thank them for all they did for me during my stay at the base. At no time did I ever feel lonely away from home while visiting Sedalia. Signed, William R. Robinson, Melvindale, Mich."

Will Introduce New Bill

McClellan Urges Congress Meet Hoffa's Nationwide Strike Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) urged Congress today to meet head-on James R. Hoffa's threat to call a nationwide strike if labor unions are subjected to antitrust laws.

McClellan, chairman of the Senate rackets probers, said he will introduce soon a bill he has talked about to apply the antitrust laws to transportation unions. He gave no further details.

Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, told a Brownsville, Tex., audience Tuesday that organizing labor's answer to such legislation should be to have all its collective bargaining contracts expire on the same date, and then strike.

"We can call a primary strike all across the nation that will straighten out the employers once and for all," Hoffa said.

Hoffa has been working to organize a conference of various transportation unions, including his Teamsters, and longshoremen and rail unions. He spoke at a district convention of the International Longshoremen's Association but indicated he was suggesting a strike by all labor unions.

The suggestion was quickly rejected by AFL-CIO President George Meany, who served notice Hoffa could not count on support from the federation's 12 1/2 million members. The AFL-CIO has expelled the Teamsters on charges of corruption.

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) a former Detroit union official, said a general strike "would be suicidal, just crazy," and added that "I think Hoffa has more sense than to do that." He noted that Hoffa had said a strike could be called, not that it would be.

But McClellan saw real danger in Hoffa's words, which he called a threat against Congress and the people. He said the Teamsters chief should not be allowed to "get away with it."

McClellan said Hoffa was talking about a strike that would "shut down industry, stop the wheels of commerce, strangle the economy and challenge the supremacy of our government."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., (D-N.C.) a member of McClellan's committee and co-sponsor of the hotly disputed Kennedy-Ervin bill, declared that Hoffa's speech finally has convinced him the McClellan bill is needed.

"It will be a tragic thing for the people if Congress knuckles down to Hoffa," Ervin said.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), co-sponsor of the Kennedy-Ervin bill, reserved comment until after he studies a text of Hoffa's speech.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said in a separate interview Hoffa's threat should bring swift action by the House to toughen up the Kennedy-Ervin bill, which he contends is "too soft."

Alfalfa Farmers Pressed To Save First Cutting As Hay

By MERLE VAUGHAN
County Extension Agent

This appears to be one of the years in which farmers growing alfalfa will be hard pressed to save their first cutting as hay.

First cutting alfalfa has more minerals and feed nutrients provided you cut it early, when shoots begin to show at crown of the plants. The problem is how to get it cured at that time.

You can speed up curing of any plant by following the mower with a hay conditioner. Conditioners are becoming very popular. They take a half-day to a day off of curing time. This might mean putting up hay one day earlier. An extra morning exposure to dew could be avoided. A heavy dew on field curing hay can cost a lot in color which means vitamins and protein are lost, perhaps a 10 to 20 per cent loss.

I did some checking of local companies selling hay conditioners Monday afternoon. The John Deere Co. was about sold out. The International Harvester Co. hoped to demonstrate their one machine at Clayton Stevens this week and the Ford Tractor folks are planning a demonstration at Henry Lamm's this Friday.

Some folks that have been reported as having conditioners include Tom Yeater, George Jaeger, Summer Brothers, Roy Petty, Melvin Turner, Lee Dow and Olen Monsees. I stopped by Roy Petty's Monday evening. He had been able to get two fields up all right with the help of the conditioner. However, he had a third field down and had started on a fourth when these latest rains came.

Making silage may be your best bet if weather is threatening. Grass and legume silage can be good or bad depending on how you handle it. Ordinarily the forage when it is cut is very high in moisture. If it's going to be good silage, you'll have to either wilt it or add enough dry matter to absorb the extra moisture. You can add 150 to 300 pounds of ground grain or hay per ton.

We have an adequate supply of the Extension Circular 665 entitled "Grass Silage" at the office. For alfalfa this circular recommends 70 to 80 pounds of molasses or 200 pounds of dried grain per ton. This dried grain can be ground corn, wheat, barley, rye or grain sorghum. If corn and cob meal is used the amount should be increased one-fourth.

Two hundred pounds of ground grain added to a ton of green material containing 25 per cent or 500 pounds of dry matter will lower the moisture content from 75 per cent to about 69 per cent.

It is estimated by research workers that about 80 per cent of the feeding value of the grain is recovered when the cattle consume the silage. The use of grain reduces seepage and it improves the feeding value enough that the grain rations can be slightly reduced. The ground grain can be added as the silage goes into the blower by means of a hopper in which the rate of flow can be controlled.

Sodium Metabisulphite does a good job of preserving the color and quality of grass silage. The cost of the material is not excessive and it is relatively easy to apply through a hopper on the field chopper or blower. Ten to 12 pounds is best for immature legumes. Sodium metabisulphite does not add feed nutrients to the silage but it does help reduce seepage losses. It also helps preserve the carotene or vitamin A content and reduces odors to some extent. If properly used it often improves the palatability of silage but an excess can reduce palatability.

Wilting requires extra machine labor but actually cuts the time a field chopper is in operation. Frequently a crop can be picked up from the windrow faster than while standing. Wilting takes extra time but this might be some of the best time spent in getting quality silage for your herd. We know of no practice other than adding dry matter or wilting that will make quality silage from high moisture forage.

Wilting may be for two or four hours, depending on the weather. Little time is required in a good drying day. Wilt just enough to reduce the moisture content to the point where a handful of the freshly chopped forage squeezed will not show any free moisture or wetness on the hand. It should remain as a loose ball. If it springs completely apart it is too dry and will not pack well enough to exclude air. Material for tower silos may be drier than for trench silos.

A fine cut of 3/4 inch in length, or less, particularly on the top foot or two of silage, makes it easier to pack. Continuous packing during the filling of the silo cannot be overemphasized. Also, packing 30 to 40 minutes per day up to one week after filling is desirable.

Farm Loan Secretary To Attend Meet

Mr. Perry B. Edde, secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association of Sedalia, will attend a meeting in St. Louis on May 21 and 22, at the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis. Making loans to farmers, and the new higher level of appraised values which permit larger land bank loans on good farms are the principal topics that will be discussed at the meeting of all secretary-treasurers and appraisers in the state.

Edde announced that new loans closed by the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis set a new record this year. The amount loaned in March 1959 totaled $9,000,000. This broke all records for March in any year since the Federal Land Bank was organized in 1917. Land bank loans closed during the first quarter of 1959 totaled $21,500,000. Farmers today are using capital to advantage in improving their farming operations or enlarging their farms. Land-bank loans supply an increasingly important part of the capital required by farmers. Loans outstanding now total over $190,000,000.

Land-bank loans now represent a much larger percentage of total farm mortgages recorded in each of the states served by the bank—Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas. Edde says that the larger land-bank loans now available has made it possible to set new records in serving effectively the long-term credit needs of farmers. The new higher level of appraised values on good, productive farms has resulted in a substantial increase in the amount loaned on these farms.

Land-bank loans are convenient to obtain through the national farm loan association, and are made for any agricultural purpose including improvements to the farm or meeting the operating needs of the farm or farm family, said Edde. The National Farm Loan Association of Sedalia serves Pettis, Cooper, Moniteau and Morgan Counties. Edde says that an increasing number of farmers in this area are using a land-bank

Way Cleared For Ending Paper Strike

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Agreement on all issues in the American Newspaper Guild's three-month-old strike against the St. Louis Globe-Democrat was reached Tuesday night.

Observers hailed the settlement as clearing the way for an end to the strike against St. Louis' only morning newspaper. The Globe hasn't published since 332 Guildsmen struck last Feb. 21.

The agreement, reached in the presence of two federal conciliators, came after seven hours of negotiations. Its terms were not disclosed.

It must be approved by the strikers, the executive committee of the St. Louis Guild local and by the Guild.

The union negotiating committee announced in a statement that it will call a membership meeting for Friday to consider the agreement. It said that it will recommend that the strikers accept the terms.

There was no indication as to when the Globe-Democrat could resume publication.

In its statement, the Guild said it was speaking for itself and Globe Publisher Richard H. Amberg.

The statement said differences on job security had been resolved. This was one of two major points in dispute. The other was a Guild demand for a funded pension plan similar to one in effect at the rival St. Louis Post-Dispatch, an afternoon newspaper.

The strike began in support of the Guild's pension demands. But during the strike, the Globe sold its plant and equipment to the Post-Dispatch. Amberg announced that the sale would result in fewer jobs on the Globe, and that some employees would have to be dismissed. The Guild demanded the right to negotiate any dismissals caused by the sale, and thus the job security issue was created.

When publication is resumed, the Post-Dispatch will print the Globe. The newspapers, however, will remain separate in all other aspects.

When Editor Dons Flood Hat Citizens Plug Drains

By R. B. Wellington
The Ottawa Herald

OTTAWA, Kan. (AP) — There's a saying a man can't wear two hats.

Lamar Phillips does. But the people of Ottawa wish he would not.

Ordinarily Phillips, city editor of the Ottawa Herald, sports a trim brown fedora. It causes no comment.

His other hat is battered, mud-colored. He wears it when the Marais des Cygnes River is flooding—something she does too often. When Phillips dons his flood hat, Ottawans plug drain pipes, empty basements and get set for an overflow.

Thirty years of study have made Phillips an expert on the Marais des Cygnes, which bisects Ottawa and Osawatomie and becomes the Osage River soon after she crosses the Missouri line.

Back in the 1940s Phillips compiled a 50-year history of the overflows of Old Mary. He sent it to Errett P. Scrivner, then representative from this congressional district.

Scrivner forwarded it to the Corps of Engineers. This boosted flood control for the Marais des Cygnes-Osage valley. For Phillips, a climax to his long years of work will come the first week in June.

On June 2, the Department of the Army will present Phillips a certificate of appreciation for "outstanding civilian service . . . in obtaining public support and understanding for that portion of the Army's civil works program administered by the Corps of Engineers for flood control, conservation and beneficial use of the water resources of the lower Missouri River basin."

On June 3, Phillips will cover the opening of bids for the Pomona dam, the first reservoir to be built in the upper valley. The engineers will receive the bids in Ottawa at 2 p. m.

The award will be presented to Phillips at a banquet in Ottawa. Among those who have indicated they will be present are Gov. George Docking, Senators Frank Carlson and Andrew Schoepel, Reps. Ed Rees and Newell George, former Sen. Harry Darby, Maj. Gen. Keith R. Barney, Missouri River division engineer at Omaha; Col. L. E. Laurion, district engineer at Kansas City; former Rep. Scrivner, and officials of the Mississippi Valley Assn. and the Missouri-Arkansas Basins Assn.

The Pomona reservoir site on the Marais des Cygnes is 16 miles west of Ottawa. The reservoir will cost about 14 million dollars, create a lake of 4,000 surface acres and take four years to build. Once completed it will give Ottawa partial protection in times of major floods.

Combined with the Melvern reservoir, authorized by Congress but yet to be constructed, Pomona will prevent what happened in 1951. In that year Old Mary swept through Ottawa a mile wide.

The water was two feet deep over desks in the Herald office and forced the newspaper to print in Chanute about a month.

Phillips' interest in flood control goes back to 1928, the year he came to work on the Herald. He began as a printer's devil in 1914 and later became a machinist and a linotype operator.

Phillips recalls the flood of 1928 filled the Herald's basement.

"We had to pull the motor out of the pit under the press," he said, "but we were only out of operation four days. We printed one issue in Garnett and three in Chanute."

In 1944, Phillips left his typesetting machine, trading it for a typewriter in the Herald newsroom. The late Sidney F. Harris, then publisher of the newspaper, agreed with Phillips that Old Mary needed a bride. He agreed to back any effort for flood control, a position from which he never wavered.

On an average of twice a year, the Herald sends Phillips to Washington to appear before House and Senate committees. He usually is the spokesman for the Ottawa delegation and that area in the Kansas portion of the Marais des Cygnes-Osage valley.

"The 10 years from 1944 to 1954 were the rough ones," he says. "There were many who felt flood control was a silly idea. We were often scoffed at and told nothing would come of these trips to Washington."

In 1954 Congress authorized the entire valley plan which includes 11 projects. This plan includes a dike project through Ottawa which has already started, Fort

"Fifteen years to fight for something seems like a long time," Phillips says. "Actually, when you consider all that has happened, we have fared very well."

Phillips expects to see the Pomona reservoir completed before his retirement from the Herald in 1965. He promises the day the big reservoir is closed he'll walk the block from the office to the river and toss his battered flood hat into the stream he has battled so long.

Missourians Can Expect More Warm Weather

From now on, Missourians can expect more warm weather. And, poultry flocks may soon be bothered with lice, because poultry lice thrive in Missouri's warm summer climate.

Missouri extension poultrymen suggest you check your flock often during warm weather. If you notice lice on poultry, start control measures before lice rob profits.

Keep in mind this simple control measure: Two tablespoons of lindane in a pint of water. Paint on the roost. Extension poultrymen say that as hens perch on the roost, body heat changes this lindane solution into a gas that kills lice. Repeat this treatment in about ten days.

Poultry lice really like warm weather. Check the flock often and control lice before they rob your profits.

Missouri Can Show You . . .

LOG COURTHOUSE STILL IN USE

These walnut and white oak logs were cut 132 years ago by a slave, Sam Shepherd, who built the little two-room courthouse. Its total cost was $150! Among its fascinating contents are Shepherd's picture, taken when he was 105 years old, and a daily journal filled with the curious notes and interesting financial records of an early Independence business house.

Though three other Jackson County courthouses have since been built, this old structure has far from outlived its usefulness. For, in addition to welcoming visitors each week-day, it serves as Community Welfare offices.

Missouri Division, United States Brewers Foundation, 915 Olive, St. Louis 1.

Missouri can show you a rich and fascinating history in many fields. Since 1810, for instance, Brewing has been an important Missouri industry. Its importance today is evidenced by this 1957 statistic: Missouri's brewing industry paid more than 56 million dollars in taxes! Thus beer, the light, bright beverage of moderation, has an outstanding economic importance in Missouri.

Reds Never Will Launch First Rocket

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told a group of Florida business and professional men Tuesday that the Soviet Union never will launch the first rocket against the United States.

But he said their grandchildren had better look out—the bug of communism will get them.

Khrushchev, evidently in a good humor, told them he was happy to see 45 Florida businessmen and after a 70-minute interview took them out into the Kremlin garden for photographs.

Notes on the conversation were given by Ralph A. Renick, vice president of TV station WTVJ of Miami, president of the Radio-TV News Directors Assn., and Thomas F. Fleming, president of the First Bank of Boca Raton, Fla.

"I can assure you that we will not be the first to use our weapons against you," Khrushchev said.

Later in the talks he said: "Who can guarantee that your grandchildren years from now will have the same views that you do? We won't start a war. We will not strike first and you will not allow any crazy people to start a war. Therefore there will be no war but you are afraid of communism as of the devil himself."

"The bacilli of communism may enter the brains of your grandchildren. Therefore take care of the brains of your grandchildren," Khrushchev predicted the Geneva Big Four foreign ministers conference will be successful "or we would not have participated in the first place."

He declared the U.S.S.R. is willing to go a long way to get results. He repeated what he said earlier that he dislikes the package plan proposed by the Western powers.

"The Western powers have proposed a draft which calls for a united Berlin to be set up," he said. "In other words they proposed that the government of East Germany should give up its own capital, that of East Berlin."

"Is that government supposed to transfer its capital somewhere else? Is it supposed to transfer it to Mars or Jupiter? No reasonable person can hope for a solution on that basis."

Railroad Workers Get Increase in Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's railroad workers will get a 10 per cent increase in retirement benefits and 20 per cent rise in unemployment benefits effective June 1 under a law signed by President Eisenhower yesterday.

Eisenhower made no comment. The bill was sent to him by Congress May 5.

The cost of the new program will be met by higher payroll taxes for both railroads and workers. The railroad workers are outside the social security system and have their own system of pensions, unemployment and sickness benefits and aid to survivors.

These payments are more than social security, but cost workers and employers more. The present tax of 6 1/2 per cent on both carrier and employee goes up immediately to 6 3/4 per cent on Jan. 1, 1963 to 7 1/4 per cent.

Practical Nurses Not Aware of Potential

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Practical nurses are not being used to their full potential, a panel agreed Tuesday.

The discussion was held at the 11th annual convention of the Missouri State Assn. of Licensed Practical Nurses.

Miss Hilda M. Torrop of New York, president of the National Assn. of Practical Nurses, said her organization believes hospitals are not using practical nurses wisely.

Sister M. Fabian Hutti of Kansas City, president of the Missouri State Board of Nursing, said practical and registered nurses must not allow personality clashes to interfere with their work.

Elected for two-year terms were Mrs. Letha Owens, Nevada, second vice president; Mrs. Marjorie Braun, Lexington, secretary; Mrs. Inez McCoy of Joplin and Mrs. Loucretia Watson, St. Louis, directors. Other officers were elected last year.

Man Accused Of Beating Is Captured

WILLIAMSBURG, Mo. (AP)—A husky 21-year-old youth accused of brutally beating two bachelor farming brothers and robbing them of $1,000 was captured last night after he made the mistake of hitching a ride with a former guard at the state penitentiary.

The Wayne County Sheriff's office at Greenville, Mo., said assault and armed robbery charges would be filed today against 6-foot 190-pound Bobby Joe Lampston of Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Ralph Franklin, 57, and brother Louis, 52, were attacked yesterday on a lonely lane to their farm near Williamsburg, about 15 miles south of St. Louis.

Louis is in critical condition at Poplar Bluff Hospital with a possible skull fracture. Physicians said x-rays would be taken today.

Ralph from his hospital bed said "I don't trust bankers ever since I lost money in the depression." His condition wasn't serious.

It was common knowledge in the area that the farmers carried their cash with them.

They said a masked youth armed with a shotgun suddenly appeared and demanded their money. The brothers struggled with the robber, who hit Louis on the head with the gun barrel and broke his left arm. Ralph was hit with lesser force in the same spots.

Lampston last night hitched a ride with Clifford Shipton of Poplar Bluff, a former state penitentiary guard.

Shipton said he became suspicious of his rider's "rough and boastful" talk, spotted a patrol car and drove up. Sheriff Elmer Chatman and Highway Trooper A. E. Mills were in the car. The brothers had furnished them with a good description of the bandit.

The sheriff said Lampston blurted out an admission and was taken through the woods to look for the money which he said he lost while fleeing.

An undetermined amount of the money was recovered. Lampston was taken to the jail at Greenville.

Advances Plan For Regaining Custody of 13

CHICAGO (AP)—Marie Smith's hope of regaining custody of her 13 brothers and sisters may hinge on a plan to move in with her mother-in-law at Granby, Mo.

Marie has four children of her own to add to the household.

The plan was advanced yesterday in family court at a hearing on Marie's petition for custody of her brothers and sisters. Judge Maurice J. Schultze set another hearing for June 25.

Marie is 22. Her brothers and sisters range from 5 months to 13 years. Just before her mother died last fall, Marie promised her to keep the family together.

Marie succeeded until March 21, when she quarreled with her husband, Herman. She left their apartment on Chicago's west side, taking her four children with her. Then she called police and gave them an anonymous tip the 13 brothers and sisters were abandoned. Welfare authorities put them in foster homes.

Two days later Marie changed her mind and petitioned the court for their return.

Marie's attorneys proposed the move to Missouri. He said Mrs. Ethel Smith, Herman's mother, operates a foster home at Granby and consented to take in both families.

Herman is a filling station attendant. He and Marie were married 5 1/2 years ago at Louisville. She told newsmen an earlier marriage, when she was 15, was annulled.

Annual Poppy Sale Set for May 22-23

The annual sale of "Buddy" poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, with Mrs. Minnie Ratje as chairman, will be held in Sedalia May 22-23.

The idea of selling poppies to the American public took root after World War I when Madame Guerin of France decided to sell poppies from France to aid disabled and needy war veterans.

The symbolism of the Buddy Poppy, as sponsored by the VFW, was promptly accepted by the American people. Funds raised are used exclusively for veteran's welfare programs.

Mayor Abe Silverman said today, "Let not one of us forget our departed comrades who gave so much for us, and let us honor the dead by helping the living."

Spray Mix Can Do Double Duty In Your Garden

One spray mix can do double-duty in your garden this season. Missouri Extension Horticulturist Art Gaus says there's a two-in-one spray that'll get most garden insects, and diseases as well.

The double-duty spray is a mix of four materials — methoxychlor and malathion for insect kill, zinc and captan for disease control.

It's important that the right dosage be used. It's easy to remember—one tablespoon of each of the four chemicals per gallon of water. Mix only the amount needed for one application.

Another important note — spray your garden regularly. Gaus recommends one spraying each week.

And, this warning—stop spray applications one week before harvest.

Throttle And Brake

Neither side likes to admit it, but liberals and conservatives are pretty necessary to have around in a free society like ours.

A Los Angeles real estate man, whose thoughts were a million miles from politics, unconsciously expressed perfectly the kind of balance these opposite types provide. Speaking of a long-time partner of his, the man said:

"Bill and I have been good for each other. If he'd worked alone, he'd own half of Los Angeles. If I'd worked alone, I wouldn't own anything."

Each side often regards the other with impatience, annoyance, and, at the extremes, downright suspicion.

Conservatives run a course from absolute standpaters to those who favor gradual forward motion, always respectful of tradition and eager to preserve the best of what we have.

Liberals begin with an urge to action, and range from those who are willing to move at moderate speeds to those who favor a break-neck pace that may sweep everything before it.

In almost every given major or minor issue facing the country, these differences will become apparent in the arguments advanced.

Right now, for instance, on the Berlin matter under discussion at Geneva, you'll hear at one and those who want to do nothing and at the other end those who would take heavy risks with free world security to get a break in the long East-West stalemate.

One extreme thinks even dealing with Russia is intolerable. The other believes that not breaking the log jam is intolerable.

The record of history indicates that most of the time attitudes like these do not prevail. Action tends to be slow, moderate, hesitant, often even grudging. The exceptions are those times when neglected problems and difficulties have created huge, pent-up forces which blow the lid off.

The liberal who wants the millennium tomorrow will never have his way. Nor will the conservative who wants to hold time dead in its tracks. The course of history will fall somewhere between.

Yet each serves his purpose. Without the clarion calls from the "far out" liberals, there might not be as much forward movement as there is.

Without the stubborn warning of the stand-patter, there might be too much hasty, ill-considered, intemperate action.

When you hear the cries from either end of the political spectrum, remember their usefulness to us all, and try to be tolerant of their intolerance.

Ballet Builds Bridge of Understanding

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON — In the center of the Capitol Theatre stage, the fragile form of Galina Ulanova fluttered to the floor in the climax of The Dying Swan. Out in the body of the theatre, 3,426 spectators — the most ever squeezed into the Capitol — paid uproarious tribute.

Scene after scene, dance after dance of the Bolshoi Ballet had brought from staid, conservative, culture-satiated Washingtonians unabashed, uninhibited, tumultuous approval.

Beyond that approval, beyond the record-breaking $37,000 box-office receipts which topped the Metropolitan Opera's $29,000, beyond the ballerinas' quick tour of the Lincoln Memorial and Congress was something more important than art and the appreciation of art.

It was the fact that art can form a bridge between people.

So far diplomats have not been able to bridge the gap between the political animosities of the United States and the Soviet Union; nor have the scientists sitting in Geneva; nor even the heads of states meeting at the Summit in 1955. But the lithe beauty of Ulanova's body and face; the suppleness of Susanna Zvyagina in the Sabre Dance; and the rugged, expressive hands of Yuri Faier as he led 70 American musicians and 100 Russian dancers in perfect rhythm — they did what trained diplomats and skilled politicians have not been able to do.

They helped the Russian and American people understand each other.

Culture And Communism

For the Americans who applauded the grace and symmetry of the Bolshoi Ballet began to understand that a determined cultured people had produced it, dating back from 1773 when a dancer from the St. Petersburg Court Theatre, Filippo Beccari, had offered to teach children in the Moscow orphanage how to dance. They began to realize that a ballet so beautiful could not have come from a nation of state policemen and Communist criminals, but from a nation which has achieved great beauty, and which now, by finally lifting the "Iron Curtain," wants to share it.

Likewise the Russian ballerinas who toured Washington by bus before their performance knew they were not visiting a nation of hate-mongers and wicked capitalists. When they wanted to stop rush-hour traffic near the 14th Street Bridge to take pictures of the Jefferson Memorial because it was so beautiful, they probably did not know that it was erected in honor of the first and foremost teacher of American democracy. They just knew that the memorial in honor of Thomas Jefferson was beautiful and, regardless of traffic, they wanted to photograph it.

And when they were so fascinated with the radio sets that described the portraits at the Mellon Art Gallery, they did not appreciate

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

THE NATION'S "RINKYDINK" — Now we have a "rinkydink," and it's a sure winner. Ladies and gents, it's about the farm lands. Many farmers are increasing their corn production. And, why not? It's good for their pocketbooks. And you, ladies and gents, are paying the bill, in taxes.

I'm sure you know about taxes. The farm boys have a deal with Washington to increase corn production — but not to sell it. They have a "rinkydink" called a Federal support price. Then comes the question: Where will we store it?

The Government lends the farmer up to 80 per cent of the cost of production and its storage is free. It's a sweet deal. The Government hasn't any use for the corn. Its problem is: What to do with it? Why not feed it to the hogs?

Some farmers have cut down livestock production in order to boost corn output, to be stored at Government expense. It's at your expense, my patient reader.

Now, hogs like corn. "But hog-raising is a year-round job," as a farmer said, "and doesn't give me a chance to go to Florida in the winter. Hog-raising is not only hard work; it's a year-round chore. You have a chance to make more money raising corn for Uncle Sam — and it's less of a gamble."

It is quite obvious that the longer the farm subsidies continue, the crazier and costlier will be these "rinkydinks."

the fact that the founder of the gallery had been an oil-and-aluminum millionaire, Andrew Mellon, architect of the Coolidge-Hoover policy that we must have no contacts with the Communist world.

This did not interest the ballerinas. What they said was: "This is a wonderful art gallery. This is beautiful. It has real art."

Even the relentless anti-Russian heart of old Andy Mellon might have melted had he heard the ecstasy of these modern-day Russians over his gallery.

Bolshoi Ballet Pioneer

Another man who should have been present to watch the Bolshoi Ballet take Washington is Eddie Dowling, the Irish actor with more gold in his heart than in his pockets.

It was Eddie Dowling who first urged that the Bolshoi Ballet be brought to Washington shortly after Roosevelt resumed relations with the Soviet Union. Dowling had helped elect Roosevelt in 1932 as head of his stage, screen & radio committee, and the only thing he asked in return was to be permitted to talk with Soviet Foreign Minister Maxim Litvinov regarding the Bolshoi Ballet.

Late one night at the White House Roosevelt arranged the meeting. Dowling urged Litvinov to "improve American-Russian friendship by bringing the ballet to the United States. Litvinov was noncommittal, later sent word the ballet was too busy.

Twenty-five years have passed since then. The Iron Curtain has been lifted. American tourists can now go to Russia. Almost 2,000 professors, farm leaders, business leaders, labor leaders, athletes, artists, musicians have exchanged visits. A Russian exchange student at Columbia University has become one of the most popular men on the campus. And the exchange agreement is about to be renewed.

So, slowly, but irresistibly and effectively, people-to-people friendship is working. And its success will make it much harder for some trigger-happy General or rabble-rousing politician on either side of the Iron Curtain to start war.

The Bolshoi Ballet was an appropriate climax to this forward march of friendship; and Eddie Dowling, the Irish actor who conceived it, should have been in Washington to watch the seed he planted 25 years before finally come to magnificent fruition.

DAVE GIRARDEAU MISSOURIAN: More Daylight by Law. — Even the notoriously silly goose has sense to awaken with the sun and get about whatever business occupies a goose during the day. Aside from human beings, owls and cats, most of the remainder of creation settles down to sleep at sundown.

Human beings, having invented successively the candle, the kerosene lamp, the gas mantle, the electric bulb and now the fluorescent tube, are able to get along without the sun and thus extend waking hours far into the night.

It is a doubtful accomplishment. Nature cannot be thwarted. Night hours of wakefulness must be compensated for by extending the hours of sleep far into next day's sunlight. The resulting waste becomes more conspicuous when the earth, teetering on its axis, turns toward the sun and gets more daylight.

To offset his inability to adjust his life to earth's seasonal peculiarities, man has invented daylight saving time. DST, now in effect in nearly every metropolitan center in the U.S., is a refined form of self-deception—an attempt to let the alarm clock do what one lacks the fortitude to do for himself.

Thought For Today

Lonely and Colorless Post for Herter

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Christian A. Herter's job as secretary of state is a position of high honor but it may become for him, before he's through, a lonely and colorless post.

There are several reasons for thinking so, now that the terminal illness of his predecessor, John Foster Dulles, fastens attention upon the task Herter has inherited:

1. He has very little time to develop new ideas. His job ends 20 months from now—when the Eisenhower administration goes out of office—unless the Republicans win in 1960 and want to retain him.

2. No one is really expecting from him any change in American foreign policy as it was laid down and pursued by Dulles, with President Eisenhower's blessing. It is now long-established and more or less accepted by American public opinion.

3. The shadow of Dulles will lie across every move Herter makes. It will be a yardstick for comparison between the two men. It cannot help but make Herter self conscious about his own performance, since Dulles was such a dominant figure.

"Wheeee-eee!"

4. He gives no sign of having any of Dulles' flamboyance—for instance, Dulles' startling phrase-making which agitated both friends and foes—and apparently has very little of Dulles' ego or forcefulness.

As an example:

At the foreign ministers meeting, now being held in Geneva, Herter's performance has been correct but because he is a quiet kind of man he has by no means dominated the conference as Dulles would have done, inside and out.

His statements at Geneva — where so far the meeting has been simply a propaganda contest between the West and the Soviets—already have been criticized as too prosaic and legalistic and lacking in public appeal and understanding.

The Dulles-Eisenhower foreign policy has several basic elements:

Yield nothing to Soviet protestations of goodwill unless accompanied by performance; preserve America's system of military alliances to keep the Soviets and Chinese Communists standing

Dr. Jordan Says

If Health Is Good, Gaining Weight, Is Easy Program

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

It is generally safer healthwise to be too thin than too fat. Obesity is much more of a problem than skinniness.

Nevertheless, readers like M. C. inquire every now and again for suggestions on how to gain weight.

First, it would be well for her and others like her to be checked over for possible disease, such as toxic goiter or diabetes, which might account for the thinness before embarking on any regime aimed solely at adding poundage.

The first step in the attempt to gain weight is for the person to understand the nature of the problem. The body should be considered a kind of machine which burns the calories in food by its activities. The greater the activity of the body the more food will be burned.

Thus there are two ways of gaining weight: one is to cut down on the activity output; the other to increase the food intake.

With rare exceptions, however, the practical approach to gaining weight is to increase the fuel or food intake while holding down bodily activity to reasonable proportions for age, physical conditions, sex and the like.

There are several ways of increasing the fuel intake.

One of them is to choose the foods which have the highest energy or calorie value, since these can be converted into weight as well as into work. The starches or carbohydrates and fats supply more energy and have more effect on weight than proteins do.

Consequently, when trying to gain weight one should include some fat meat, more butter or margarine, more cream, more sweets, more potatoes, more bread, cereals and other high calorie containing foods.

Balance must be maintained in the diet, however. Fruits, vegetables, meat, milk and eggs

Problem of First Americans

Status of American Indians Suggests Federal Review

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — That the average person has an easy conscience about the 520,000 Indians in this country may explain why he knows so little about the Indian's status today and what should be done for his future.

In this natural shunning of unpleasant thoughts of past injustices to the First Americans, it is not well known:

—That some 150 Indian languages are spoken here.

—That Indians are the fastest growing ethnic group in the USA.

—That since 1952, government policy has been to withdraw federal interest and responsibility.

—That 63 important tribes acting thru the Congress of American Indians are pressing Congress to take a "second look."

Today, some 467 years after Columbus reached the western hemisphere, the original Americans are poorer than any other racial minority; receive less benefit from our educational system; have a shorter life expectancy; suffer economic and social injustice.

These are "the truths" the Congress of American Indians is bringing to Capitol Hill.

The problem today is "to devise the conditions and to bring to bear the stimuli which will induce the Indian people to adapt their customs, attitudes, and technical skills to the necessities of life in the American community." So outlines the co-authors of a new book, "Indians and Other Americans," D'Arcy McNickle (an Indian) and Harold E. Fey, editor of The Christian Century.

In the 85th Congress, it was proposed that a program of technical assistance, based on the so-called Point 4 program, be established for the Indian people. Tribal delegates testified favorably but no final action was taken.

Fundamental differences exist, the two authors say, between programs operated by the United States in behalf of the Indian people and the technical assistance programs commonly referred to as Point 4.

Today the U. S. decides what programs should be initiated on an Indian reservation; it alone determines how much shall be expended, how long it will continue, and when it shall terminate. It employs the personnel, establishes the qualifications of the employed and at all times is in full control of operations. If Indians are consulted at all it's a formality, nor do they pay any part of the cost. In contrast, a Point 4 program is not undertaken unless the people of the country request it. Within the limits of its financial ability, the requesting country must share the cost in money, goods or services. Management is jointly shared, with the requesting country having full authority to veto any items within a proposal; and operations are carried out thru existing agencies and facilities of the requesting country.

All the Indians ask is to make the primary decisions affecting their lives and their property. Their decisions may not be more skillful but, by making their own decisions, the people will be content to live with them and, if need be, to change them.

Ruth Millett Says

Aloneness As Important To Man As Togetherness

"Why don't women realize," ask one of my men readers, "that a man needs to be alone once in a while?"

"I am a salesman," he says, "and I am with people all day long. If there is some problem I want to think about, either business or personal, I try to get off by myself for an hour or two — but my wife won't have it."

"She seems to think that if I'm in one room and she is in another she has to do something about it. So she'll follow me to the spot where I've gone off to be alone and start to chatter, or she'll send one of the children to tell me I simply must watch a TV show. If she is in a bad mood she will complain that she is sick of the house and ask to see a movie."

"I tell you it never fails. I simply cannot get a few minutes alone in my own house. If I answer her absent-mindedly when she starts to chatter she accuses me of not hearing a word she is saying."

"If I say I'd rather read than watch the TV show, she says 'You can read that old book any time.'"

If I say I don't want to go to a movie because I have a business problem I want to work out she says, "You aren't working, you're just sitting."

"Don't misunderstand me. I love my wife. But just once in a while I'd like to be left undisturbed for an hour or two. Why can't a woman understand that?" Maybe she acts that way because you've never tried to explain it to her. Perhaps you have just expected her to be sensitive enough to your feelings to know when you prefer aloneness to togetherness.

Try explaining to her that while she has hours of being alone during the day you have none, and that your only chance for solitude is in your own house.

Today's wives have been sold on the idea of togetherness to such an extent that many of them feel that they are failures if they are not sharing every leisure moment with their husbands.

It looks, from your letter, as though husbands are going to have to do a little selling on the idea that there can be too much togetherness in a happy marriage.

Braves Have A Six Game Win Streak

By DON WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Hank Aaron's been stopped, but the Milwaukee Braves are still rolling. After a week of winning they have a six-game streak and a 4 1/2-game bulge, which might make it later than you think in that National League pennant race.

They have won six straight, longest success string of the year in the NL, after whipping San Francisco 8-1 Tuesday night. The only bright spot the Giants' pitching, which gave up 11 hits, was an 6-for-4 collar on Aaron, who had hit in 22 consecutive games.

The Chicago Cubs and Los Angeles tied for third, just .001 percentage points behind the Giants, when the Cubs handed Philadelphia a seventh straight defeat 8-7, and the Dodgers ended their losing string at five by beating Cincinnati 6-4. The St. Louis Cardinals won three in a row for the first time, beating Pittsburgh 8-2.

In the American League, Cleveland regained first by beating Washington 5-2 while Baltimore ended Chicago's one-day stay on top with a 2-1 decision over the White Sox. Last place Detroit closed in on seventh-place New York by beating the Yankees 6-3. The Kansas City at Boston game was rained out.

The Braves got it over with fast, scoring four runs in the first on Wes Covington's No. 2 homer, with two on, and Del Crandall's solo sixth homer. Covington, 3-for-4, drove in four runs as the Braves finally caught up with loser Jack Sanford. The big right-hander had beaten them three in a row since April 18 of last season.

The Dodgers made it with five unearned runs. Johnny Klippstein (4-0) was the winner as the second of four Dodger pitchers. Johnny Schmidt (1-1) lost it.

A two-run pinch single by Jim Marshall capped a winning three-run ninth for the Cubs after the Phils had taken a 7-5 lead with three in the top of the ninth, two on Wally Post's pinch homer. Ex-cub Taylor Phillips (0-3) lost it and Don Elston (3-1) won it, both in relief.

Gino Cimoli belted a two-run homer and Bill White drove in three runs for the Cards as Larry Jackson (2-5) beat the Pirates with a nine-hitter. He blanked the Bucs after the third as the Cards beat Ron Kline (3-2).

Treacherous Walls Take 50th Victim
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The 50th death in 50 years was charged today against treacherous turns and hard concrete walls of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in the most disastrous practice period since 1937.

Rookie Bob Cortner, 32, of Redlands, Calif., died Tuesday night of severe head injuries, the second victim this year of preliminaries to the 500-mile race May 30.

Jerry Unser, Lakewood, Calif., was fatally injured in another practice run May 2.

It is the first year two persons have been killed at the track since Manuel Ayulo died in practice and Bill Vukovich in the race, four years ago.

Cortner, a 10-year veteran of midget car racing but new to the big cars, had completed his speedway driver's test only Monday. After passing the final 130-mile-an-hour phase, he was permitted to drive as fast as he liked.

He wheeled his new Cornis Special into the northeast turn a little too high and was caught by a cross wind. The car spun into the infield and whipped back across the track to crunch against the retaining wall almost head on.

Cortner's face was smashed against the steering wheel and he lost a large quantity of blood from internal injuries. Other drivers and mechanics were waiting to donate blood when he died.

Commission Hearing On Jordan Contract
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The California Boxing Commission started a hearing today on reports that underworld forces have tried to muscle in on welterweight champion Don Jordan's managerial contract.

Chief of Police William H. Parker says the intelligence division of his department has been working with commission investigators for several weeks. He said the hearing would produce evidence that gang elements have plotted to control the welterweight division.

Louis Dragna and Joe Sica, identified by Chief Parker as gangland characters, are among those to be subpoenaed before the probe. Others subpoenaed are Truman Gibson, head of the National Boxing Enterprises in Chicago; Bill Daly, New York City fight manager; Jack Leonard, Hollywood boxing promoter; and Jordan's manager, Don Neseth.

Neseth has openly charged that Frank "Blinky" Palermo of Philadelphia tried to move in on his contract with Jordan.

Eddie Machen Meets Reuben Vargas Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Boxing fans tune in a California backyard heavyweight battle tonight when Eddie Machen, the fifth ranked contender, meets Reuben Vargas in a 10-rounder at the Cow Palace.

This nationally televised bout (ABC), starting at 9 p.m. EST, with a blackout 300 miles around San Francisco, gives Vargas his big chance to reach the contender's ranks, but the American-born Mexican from Richmond, Calif., goes in as a 2-1 underdog.

Machen, from Redding, Calif., but not fighting out of Portland, Ore., faces his first tough test since losing to Sweden's Ingemar Johansson via first round knockout Sept. 14. That dropped him from the No. 1 contender's spot and gave the Swede a chance to fight Floyd Patterson for the championship next month.

Vargas drew little recognition with a 17-6 record until January when he scored a major upset with a decision over ranking light heavyweight Tony Anthony in New York. That was Reuben's first showing before a national TV audience and he made the most of it.

His co-manager, Ralph Gambina, hinted Vargas may get a chance to fight Patterson if he can continue his upsetting victory with a decisive victory over Machen.

On their records, Machen is a clear-cut favorite at perhaps even greater odds than the quoted 2-1.

Prints Belong to Dog, Not a Mountain Lion

Farm residents along Flat Creek southeast of Sedalia can relax. Those tracks are believed to be those of an unusually large dog, not a mountain lion.

The tracks were first reported Saturday afternoon by John Nertz, who found them in a cornfield on the farm of M. O. Green, about eight miles southeast of Sedalia, near what is called Carpenter's Ford. They were also seen by a neighbor, Boyd Molder. The tracks were headed west.

Because the tracks were so large, it was first thought they might belong to a mountain lion, but Chester Vermaas, local conservation agent, examined them and made a plaster cast and said an unusually large dog probably was responsible. He said the impressions made by the animal's toenails was the chief factor, since a cat's prints show only the footpads and not the claws. Also, the size was less than originally estimated.

May Reopen Harry Oakes Murder Case

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—It is up to the crown to decide whether to reopen this royal colony's prime murder mystery, the 15-year-old Sir Harry Oakes case.

By unanimous vote, the House of Assembly Tuesday asked Scotland Yard to renew investigation into the Oakes slaying.

Raymond Schindler, an American detective who figured in the original probe, said he had information that would crack the crime.

Joining in the Assembly vote was Harold C. Christie, Sir Harry's House guest who found the Oakes battered body on a fire-swept bed July 8, 1943.

The only man ever charged with the slaying was Count Alfred de Marigny, Sir Harry's son-in-law. The Duke of Windsor, then governor of the Bahamas, hired veteran American police to work on the case. De Marigny was acquitted after a sensational trial in which charges were made that a De Marigny fingerprint was planted in Oakes' bedroom.

Oakes' daughter, Nancy, heiress to an estimated 200 million dollars, retained specialist witnesses in a costly fight to win acquittal for her husband. Their marriage later was annulled and each wed other partners.

Small Oasis In Desert Of Afternoon TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The public affairs department of CBS news planted a small oasis in the desert of afternoon television programming Tuesday by examining the question: "Do they marry too young?"

It was the first in a projected CBS-TV series entitled "Woman!" The hour program, which cost over $100,000 to produce, was outstanding in the field of daytime programming and better than most of the things visible on the home screen in the evening.

Presenting actual young people and their parents, and leaving the findings of physicians, clergymen, judges, sociologists and others, the program found the younger generation is marrying at a younger age level these days than ever in our history.

The program did not flatly answer yes or no to the question of whether they marry too young. Rather, in the manner of a good familiar essay, it placed a hand gently on the head of the subject and rotated gracefully around it.

To my mind, however, the weight of the evidence presented was rather to the effect of saying, "Children, don't hasten into matrimony because it's not an idyll. It's the biggest and most difficult contract that humans ever are asked to fulfill."

Claudette Colbert served as the narrator who brought together the threads of this excellently organized program produced by James Fleming.

Miss Colbert, who looks and acts as charming and youthful as she did in "It Happened One Night," seemed a bit coy to me at times. Yet my wife, who watched the program with me, maintained that she was perfect for the assignment.

It strikes me that one of the delightful things about a program like this is that it stirs people to thinking and discussion—even though it can't be expected to come to extraordinary conclusions after fulfilling its reportorial function.

16-Year-Old Guilty Of Kidnaping Charge

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Betty Smithley, 16, was sentenced indefinitely to a correctional center after she pleaded no contest to a charge of kidnaping 18-month-old Mitchell Johnson.

She was charged with taking him to Dallas where she abandoned him in a drug store.

"I am very sorry I took the baby," the girl told U.S. Dist. Judge Carl Hatch Tuesday. "I would like to be sentenced somewhere that I would have a chance to get an education."

Officials said she probably would be sent to the new Federal Girl's Youth Correctional Center in Virginia.

Prominent Woman Dies Tuesday

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Mrs. Robert E. Lee III, widow of a grandson of Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee, died Tuesday night after a long illness. She was 84.

Mrs. Lee, once prominent in Washington circles, was a direct descendant of Henry I. Middleton, first president of the Continental Congress, and Arthur Middleton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

She was a granddaughter of Christopher Memminger, first secretary of the Confederacy under Jefferson Davis.

Judge Approves TV Contract for Girl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Barbara Beird, 10, has a new $300-a-week contract as a TV actress with NBC—and a new fan.

The fan: Judge John Gee Clark, who approved her contract Tuesday and bemusedly listened to Barbara's description of her TV role.

"I'm going to play the role of Teeny—the one who comes up and teases Fibber McGee and says 'I betcha'—if you remember radio."

"Well, yes, I remember radio," the judge replied. "You just don't know how old I am."

River Runners Guide Boats Through Rapids

MOAB, Utah (AP)—Veteran river-runners guided a rubber boat through some of the Colorado River's most perilous rapids today, looking for a missing boater last seen clinging to an overturned cabin cruiser.

But members of Frank A. Rich's family who survived the boat capsizing Sunday refused to believe the 65-year-old Californian wasn't safe. Their hopes were buoyed Tuesday when a helicopter rescued his 63-year-old wife.

Rich, of Lakewood Village, Calif., and his family were tossed into the churning rapids of Cataract Canyon, a deep gorge that sometimes cuts hundreds of feet into the granite rock country 40 air miles southwest of here.

The elder Mrs. Rich was uninjured except for some sunburn and a bruise on her right leg.

His son and daughter-in-law were found Monday. Her son, Dr. Delbert Rich of Cedar City, Utah, and his wife, Penney, 35, expressed confidence that the father would be found safe.

Forgives Wife For Paying for His Death

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"I don't know anybody in the world who would take a woman back after she paid someone to kill him," said the judge.

His words were spoken Tuesday to Beatrice Gurley, 41, who offered a detective $1,000 to kill her husband. At her side stood the husband, Dave, his arm around her waist.

Judge Ben Willard freed her despite her plea of guilty to a charge of attempted murder.

"You're not uneasy sleeping out there in the same house with her?" the judge asked Gurley.

"Not a bit," replied the husband.

"Well, I just hope you know what you're doing. If you can sleep out there without fear, it's all right with me."

Prefers State Prison

BOSTON (AP)—Earl Gray, 26, was convicted Tuesday of unarmed robbery.

Superior Court Judge Reuben L. Lurie indicated he planned to sentence Gray to 18 months in jail. But Gray asked for a longer sentence so he could be confined in State Prison.

Asked why, Gray said "They have a better athletic program at the prison."

Judge Lurie complied by sentencing him to 2½ to 3 years in prison.

Rev. Burgess Speaker At Rotary Meet

The Rev. Richard Burgess, who was born in Cuba, and is now pastor of the Warsaw Methodist Church, was the speaker at Rotary Club Monday noon at Bothwell Hotel. He is preparing himself to go back to Cuba as a missionary. He attended Clinton, Mo., High School and the Southern Methodist University at Dallas, Tex. His inspiration to become a minister and to specialize in missionary work dates back to the time he accompanied his father, who is connected with the Cuban Sugar Industry, on a trip.

An excellent speaker, the Rev. Mr. Burgess gave the historical events of Cuba, and held a round table discussion. He was introduced by the Rev. Robert Lehev, program chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Jack Cunningham, president. Invocation was given by the Rev. T. W. Croxton. Singing was led by George Lockett, with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano. Mr. Burgess sang the national anthem of Cuba in the Cuban language.

Guests presented were: Bill Arnold, Captain Johnson, WAFB, guest of Dr. L. S. Geiger, and student guests Milton Ray and Ronnie Carter, and Rotarian Thomas W. Croxton, Jefferson City.

Rotarians were: Major Hagar, to Washington, D.C., and Lou Temple, to Marshall.

On May 15, the following members of the club attended the district assembly at Lebanon, Mo.: Jess Brown, Ray Lippard, Boyd Massey, the Rev. D. Warren Neal, Leonard Peabody and Keith Yount.

Junior Garden Club To Meet Wednesday

The Junior Garden Club meeting will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday at the Public Library.

Mrs. John Ryan will have as her topic, "Flower Arrangements". Peggy Fischer will be her assistant.

Mrs. Ida Harriman asks that all members attend to make plans for the Flower Show to be held May 23, at the Floriculture Building at the Missouri State Fair Grounds.

Cruise by Boat Club

The newly-organized Sedalia Boat Club took its first cruise on Lake of the Ozarks on Sunday, meeting at Hurricane Deck Bridge at 10 a.m. and traveling about 15 miles to a point being considered for purchase as a club site. Approximately 50 persons, with 20 boats, enjoyed the cruise, as well as water skiing, swimming and a picnic lunch.

Would Save Old Huron Cemetery

WASHINGTON (AP)—A delegation of 13 from Kansas City, Kan., called on Congress yesterday to reverse itself to retain the old Huron Indian cemetery in the heart of their city.

Legend has it a curse will fall on anyone desecrating the Indian burial ground. Despite this and the steadfast watchfulness of former Rep. Errett P. Scrivner, someone eased a bill through Congress in 1956 to sell the cemetery and divide the proceeds among the survivors of the Wyandotte Indian tribe in Oklahoma.

Rep. Newell A. George, the Democrat who unseated Scrivner in 1958, led yesterday's attack seeking to block the sale. It was mounted before the Indian Affairs subcommittee of the House Interior Committee.

George testified the Wyandottes probably would get no more than $50 to $75 apiece from the sale after expenses of relocating the cemetery are paid. Scrivner said they might get nothing.

Mayor Paul F. Mitchum of Kansas City, Kan., presented a petition bearing 5,554 signatures and resolutions by the city commissioners and the Wyandotte County commissioners asking that the cemetery be retained.

Lawrence Zane of Miami, Okla., chief of the Wyandotte tribe, sent a telegram expressing the same sentiment.

Former President Harry S. Truman sent a letter suggesting the burial ground be turned into a national monument.

Harry Trowbridge, representing the Wyandotte County Historical Society, and Alan W. Farley, former president of the Kansas Historical Society, made pleas.

But Rep. Ed Edmondson (D-Okla.) told the committee the Wyandotte tribe feels the sanctity of the burial ground is being violated and there should be no further delay in the sale.

DEADLY PLAYTHING—This is a warning to parents to keep plastic bags away from their children. National Safety Council records show that 20 children were killed by the bags in the first three months of 1959. Indianapolis, Ind., dry cleaner W. E. Dismore, above, has ordered new bags with a warning clearly printed on them. When children put the bags over their heads or across their mouths, friction can cause an electrostatic charge which plasters the material to their faces. Suffocation follows.

Weapons Against Muggers

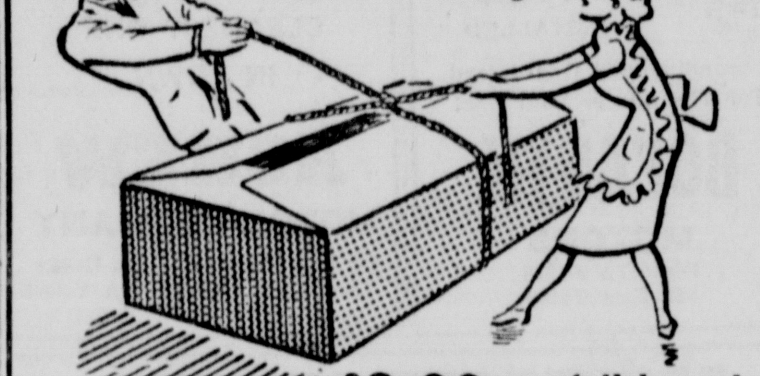

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A long hatpin, a whistle, and a "good scream" are a gal's best friends when a mugger strikes says Alice Clifford, a lieutenant on the Philadelphia police force.

But if any of these means fail, she says, to drive off the attacker or bring help, then Lt. Clifford recommends the victim try to get a good look at her attacker's face and if he is masked, then a good look at his ears.

No two pairs of ears are alike.

Oversight In Bill On Delinquency Is To Be Corrected

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Prosecutors once again could file charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor under a bill signed by Gov. James T. Blair yesterday. It becomes law Aug. 29.

As a result of a legislative oversight, the new juvenile code failed to include any definition of delinquency. The result was that prosecuting attorneys had no legal weapon to use against persons contributing to the delinquency of youngsters under 17.

The oversight came to light as the result of a child bride case.

Also signed was a bill that will permit state banks and trust companies to invest in the stock of local industrial development corporations — a plan recommended by a special committee that studied industrial development problems. Another bill approved will raise the jurisdiction of courts of appeal in Missouri from $7,500 to $13,000.
